Golden Age Parenting and Teaching

Part II

The creative potential that is encoded within the Divine Blueprint of every soul is going to unfold in direct accordance with where every child and adult are focusing their attention and their love in the coming months. Creating a new Golden Age is a totally collaborative event that necessarily involves the passionate dedication of many souls who know they are here to demonstrate living in Unity or Christ Consciousness. The heart has only one desire ~ to reunite with Source by joining in love with every other heart.

Mary Magdalene:

If you are having difficulty loving yourself exactly as you are or loving others exactly as they are, this is a great opportunity for transforming fear into love and ongoing acceptance. Even subtle self-deprecating assessments are draining energy that could be used to create an entirely new way of living in your world. Judgments magnify patterns that you are supposedly observing in another, yet their real gift is that they are pointing to you who are having the thoughts, so you can see where you are feeling unworthy or unlovable.

Great amounts of energy will be set free to care for each other and the planet when there is far less judging going on in your world. Whether you are a child or an adult, all limiting thought patterns, including those that involve judging, can actually be used to show you where you are reaching out to be loved and set free. Inner or outer-directed communications that involve blame, guilt or shame are like unrecognized inner children crying out to be seen, heard, recognized and loved free.

Although the unloved parts of the self almost always seek outside to find solace and the love that is missing inside, outer sources can never really bring about the hoped-for inner sense of fulfillment. As a parent or teacher, the actions of your children, especially when they are teenagers, will sometimes test the depths of your love, yet very often your children are actually playing out your own feelings of lack or confusion. With an expanded heart and mind and your willingness to observe without any attachment to being right, both you and your children can explore together the possibility of how you might be sharing some of your patterns. You can make this into a truly exciting and enlightening project with a complete absence of blame, shame and judgment on anyone's part. When you approach this as equals, the limiting game of feeling less than or better than that creates conflict and separation is over.

Meanwhile, you as a parent or teacher do need to take time out for yourself or you can start resenting your role. You are all like plants that must be nourished to move into your full potential as human beings and you need to nourish who you really are and not just what you are expected to be, otherwise your love might wither or even appear to be gone altogether.

Beloveds, thousands of you are here during this Great Shift in the Ages because you agreed to remember that you are ~ and always have been ~ a unique and Divine expression of Source, often referred to as your Presence. Please know that your Presence is not a separate, totally unreachable lofty expression of your being. Its consciousness penetrates every cell and atom of your body and its Divine Love and Light are also all around your body. If your Presence had a request, it would be to have you know throughout every fiber of your being that you are on Earth to BE your Presence and to express its love through your heart and its thoughts through your mind.

The Presence is also called your Christ Self. Its only desire is to remain in conscious Union with the Source as the Beloved, and as the first Love and the first Light of Source that is encoded within the core of your heart and every heart. When all thoughts, feelings and actions are coming from love, neither parents, teachers nor their children will have any doubt about who they are or why they are here. When children are assisted in aligning with their Presence from the moment they are born ~ and indeed before they are even out of the womb ~ what a different world it will be!

As teachers embrace the children in their classrooms from this perspective, and actively nurture the Presence within each one, their natural gifts, talents and genius will be awakened. These precious ones have come in with the visions and solutions to co-create a new Golden Age ~ a safe, loving environment will allow these new ways of peace, abundance and freedom to emerge and blossom into fruition.

The only reason the Presence has not been embodied in its totality in every man, woman and child is because the mind created shields around the heart based on the belief that we needed to protect ourselves. For thousands of years the belief systems that have supported separation have created human beings who do not fully remember what it feels like to be truly loving.

Yet you are now moving into an age that is supporting deeper levels of honesty and intimacy until finally the full blossoming of a Golden Age will be a reality upon the Earth. The more this new Age unfolds, the more the heart will become everyone's guiding light and people around the world will start realizing their profound connection with all of life, including life throughout the cosmos.

The children are the key because they have come in encoded to create and live in this new world. You as parents and teachers are being given the profound honor of nourishing these precious souls to reach their full potential that will benefit all generations to come.
