Living in Freedom Part I

Humanity as a whole has lived in bondage for thousands of years, yet the prison doors are finally open. The opportunity to walk forth in freedom is before you. When you choose to take this leap of faith into the unknown, others will follow, as the invitation to walk the Earth in true freedom during these extraordinary times is ultimately irresistible.

Masters Saint Germain and Lady Portia

As you move deeper into Unity Consciousness, you are naturally reclaiming your ability to be on Earth without carrying any guilt from the past or fear of the future and without any need to apologize for who you are. You may think and even feel that you are already living in freedom, yet it is truly quite rare.

Living in freedom is being totally present to whatever is arising without any ego need to say something important or to say anything at all. This extends into the practice of observing without thinking or without having to have an opinion about what or whom you are observing. Notice when your unspoken comments reflect your limited thinking about yourself or another. For limited thinking is what has created separation and bondage to the ego mind and the personality it has constructed around it to protect its image.

This bondage has isolated the soul, bringing forth a deep longing for a closeness that can only come when there is no interference from the thinking part of the mind that is continually busy trying to identify and share its limited perceptions. The mind actually circulates through every cell of your body and yet it is now, more than ever, being invited to merge its illusionary sense of self with the Heart and the Mind of the One Presence. The dissolving of the mind's pre-conceived perceptions is the foundation upon which Unity Consciousness is built, and the key to your freedom.

In the past, most people have found it very challenging to release their limited ideas of who they think they are because they erroneously assumed it was their ideas that established them as an individual. This ill-formed logic has been running your world in fear-based, misunderstood cycles of co-creation for centuries. You can check this out yourself the next time you walk into a room. See if your mind has a tendency to start projecting internal thoughts about what it thinks it perceives about the people or the situation you are observing. These projections often happen so quickly that they are not even recognized as factors in creating separation from your own unlimited Presence as well as separation from others.

Only your agreement to live in pure Presence can shift your limited thinking mind into its higher capacity to simply be present to whatever is taking place. In the unified domain of your consciousness, you can live and listen with equanimity with no fixed ideas that would initiate resistance or separation to whatever is taking place. For when you are present as your Presence, you have the ability to create freedom in every moment. Your increased capacity to live in this way will greatly assist you to move into the next cycle of humanity's unfolding where thinking will occur very differently than it does now.

In your new Golden Age, thinking will arise so spontaneously from your heart that it will bypass your limited mind. This means that you will not be editing yourself before you speak. Yet this cannot happen until you are aligned with more of the purity of your Presence. As it is now, unedited communication has led to havoc and even to war. You have only to look around to see the truth of this.

We are here to help you align your soul with the consciousness of your heart-centered Presence where there are no thoughts or words that desire to create limitation or separation! When awakened to your Presence within, you are able to both listen and speak beyond the common conditioned responses of the limited 3rd dimensional mind.

All of the Golden Age practices being offered in the Courses to Walk the Earth as a Living Master are designed to assist you in living as your Presence. Awakening to your true nature has been defined as a journey that most of you have been on for thousands upon thousands of years. Yet perhaps rather than a journey to some place or someone, it can now be seen as a profound journey into the depths of your own being while merging with more and more of the Self you truly are — a Self with no pre-determined parameters — and then to love that Self so completely that you can remove any stress of having to get someplace or be someone other than who you are. The joy of just being your Self brings great peace to your heart, mind and body, and great peace to the world and all those around you. This is freedom.

To assist you in living your freedom, the Masters have created courses to Walk the Earth as a Living Master and to create a new Golden Age.
