Your New Golden Age Part II

Your God Presence holds the key to living in the new Golden Age, for only as that Self—which is always and only in the present—can your mind, heart and body see and feel the natural world around you as the paradise it truly is. Living in paradise is a state of mind and a state of being that supports whatever will truly initiate and sustain a Golden Age on every level of life. The world around you was originally created to sustain everyone's wellbeing and humanity was given the responsibility to create whatever would maintain that wellbeing. You have always been the creators of your world and now a clarion call has gone forth inviting you to build a more loving world that will truly support everyone, as well as the beauty and the wonder of the natural world.

~ The Elohim (the beings who assist you in creating your world)

The great Love and Light of Source is expanding its frequencies within the etheric sphere of energy that is around your body. In the center of this sphere is a Divine Spark that is encoded with the unlimited energies of Source. That Spark is also seeded in your Spiritual Heart and the heart of your Presence and it has been with you since your first inception from out of the womb of the Creator that contains both the male and the feminine essences of Source.

The consciousness of your Presence that is seeded in your Divine Spark is now being revitalized and expanded to assist you in remembering how to create as your Presence within a unified field of Source Love and Light. Your year of 2012 is a vital turning point in your evolutionary journey as it continues to amplify your ongoing potential to create and live from a reality base that is outside of all the limiting thoughts and feelings that have ever established the fear-based consciousness that is still prevalent in much of the 3rd dimensional world.

It is from the consciousness of your Presence that you will be calling upon the higher dimensional frequencies of Source to create your new Golden Age and this is why those frequencies have been accumulating within the sphere around your body as well as within the etheric energies of your Spiritual Centers. These Centers are now beginning to hold the Divine energies that will be a natural part of your life in the new Golden Age.

Many of you are seeing and feeling the magnetic pull of the Great Love and Light that is calling you deeper into the God Self you truly are. When you become more deeply aligned with your original Divine Spark, this relationship becomes increasingly more palpable to your mind, your feeling nature and your physical body. As you go through the Great Shift of the Ages, you will sense, feel and know it is this alignment that gives you an increasingly more palpable experience of living as your God Presence on Earth.

If the full embodiment of your Presence is your chosen focus for 2012, then everything and anything that needs to be transformed out of your old paradigm programming is going to arise to be converted back into the Love and Light of Source. When that occurs, know that all is more than well and everything that is happening in your life is a blessing. If you continue to maintain a deep sense of gratitude no matter what your life looks like in this moment, then you will find your life changing in unexpected positive ways because gratitude is a magnet for your good, whereas discontent pushes away your good and it can even repel those who may want to love you more than you know.

Gratitude is a vital step in transforming, loving free and lifting out of your life any limiting 3rd dimensional thoughtforms that may still be supporting the duality/fear/separation matrix that has been the foundation of life on your Earth for a very long time. As this old information moves up and out of the cells of your body, you will start feeling more and more of the internal and external freedom that is completely natural to your Presence and to living in a glorious new Golden Age of Freedom.

We of the Ascended Realm have created courses to aid you in realizing this freedom.
