Creating a New World Part 1

Many beings on your planet have been waiting in great anticipation for these times because they knew that a new world seeded in Unity Consciousness was about to be born. The birthing of a new world takes place when a certain number of awakened souls realize that they are here to implement the complimentary facets of their shared vision.

~ Master Kuthumi and Lady Claire

Many of you may already be feeling the kind of internal pressure that always precedes a birth ~ whether it is the birth of a baby out of the womb of its mother or the birth of a glorious new Golden Age emerging out of the womb of an awakening humanity. The joy, excitement and loving dedication that most parents feel about bringing a new baby into the world is exactly the kind of enthusiasm we see in many of your hearts as your world moves deeper into the accelerated frequencies of 2011.

During this important year it may help you to know that your Spiritual Heart is encoded with the love, the power and the wisdom that has always been there to assist you in keeping your attention from being overly attracted to the fraying threads that are still holding some of the old separation myths in place. Any limiting information that is still being held within the bones, the stones and the crystals that are buried deep within the Earth are in the process of being transformed back into their original Light so the ascension codes can be fully activated within the inner earth grids.

You may sometimes feel some of this old information moving through your own bones due to its connection with your history. Remember that you have the power to discern if this is really anything of value for you in the present. Although there is always wisdom to be gleaned from every experience, the past is really a conglomeration of stories that have been strung together to validate one's existence in the present. These memories are coming forward to be released so humanity can move into the new Golden Age with more ease.

In that Light, it is especially important for all of you to place your attention on what is eternally true as you usher in the first quadrant of 2011. As gentle and deeply observant assistants to this great Golden Age birth, you are now being given the opportunity to bring your gifts to Earth as surely as you might bring gifts to a newly born Christ child.

As the world and all of humanity literally transforms itself from a sleeping caterpillar to a magnificent butterfly, you may also wish to observe what continues to inspire and excite your heart and what seems to have lost its attraction and....

*in the midst of it all, can you simply remain awake with no attachment to what used to be,
or what you hope might be again?*

This question will become increasingly more meaningful as you progress into the new Golden Age of freedom. If you stay bound to the familiar, you often lead a relatively unconscious life that is confined to the informational systems that have come through your family lineage. Most people develop habits to define their actual existence in the 3rd dimensional world. They share stories based on their temporary thoughts and feelings as a way to create intimacy, yet it is not the kind of deep intimacy that is really possible between souls who have truly embodied the consciousness of their Presence.

Every moment is an opportunity for keeping your mind, heart and feeling nature in harmonic resonance with the Presence. Each etheric center or chakra in the body was created to sustain specific sounds, qualities and geometric configurations so the body can stay in alignment with at least 13 dimensions or spectrums of consciousness. This is the year that many in your world will be spontaneously awakening their higher dimensional connections and abilities.

Preliminary preparation involves bringing the unique powers of one's inner male and female into such harmonious alignment that they can serve together as equal partners. This can also open the doors for attracting an equally balanced outer partner who was meant to serve with you in the world. As you begin focusing on the vast opportunities that will unite the planet and all of its inhabitants, life becomes truly meaningful.

Many are aligning themselves with Unity Consciousness on the 5th dimension to prepare their cells for receiving more light and thus transcending the limitations of the 3rd dimension yet still living in physical form. The ascension part of one's blueprint is activated when the cells have expanded into enough light that the body is reflecting its original encoding from Source. As fear diminishes, this light increases until the body reaches such a high light quotient that it moves out of its carbon-based inheritance and into its crystalline-based frequencies where Unity Consciousness can complete its birth within the heart of humanity and within the heart of the earth herself.
